

Before purchasing, please verify that your rifle is compatible with the Diablo AK-47 FRT by reviewing the compatibility chart below. If your rifle's receiver matches any receiver shown on the list, it should be compatible. Please note that some models may require additional parts — refer to the chart for any required components.

The Diablo kit is compatible with most standard OEM AK-47 triggers. All OEM triggers will require a small fitment during installation. If your current trigger is not compatible, or if you would like to make installation easier, we recommend purchasing either our pre-cut LBE Trigger or our pre-cut AK / RPK Semi-Automatic Fire Control Group for guaranteed compatibility. Recommendations vary by brand and model — check the compatibility chart below for the trigger group recommended for your specific rifle.

This kit is not compatible with ALG, binary, B.A.D., or certain aftermarket triggers — you will need to replace it with our pre-cut LBE Trigger or pre-cut AK / RPK Semi-Automatic Fire Control Group.

Installation difficulty varies by rifle, ranging from beginner to advanced. Please cross-reference the compatibility chart below to determine both required parts and the expected installation level for your specific model. For general installation guidance, visit our Installation page, which includes a video library showing Diablo kit installations on numerous rifle models. We recommend referencing the video that most closely matches your rifle before purchase.
